As part of the review each Subject Lecturer completes a report and then the Personal Tutor summaries these in the Personal Tutor Summary. Targets are then set for each learner.

Review Term: Autumn/Spring/Summer

Review:

You are making good progress at present. You said you are enjoying the course and learning which is good news.

We are looking to enter you for your Health and Safety exam on the 1st October 2011 - this will not be first thing in the morning, it will be late morning or afternoon, depending when I can arrange it. I will confirm once I have firm arrangement.

Your work is busy but not overly plumbing related at the moment. There are opportunities and relationships to be developed in your workplace to help present more plumbing opportunities. Also, you mentioned your father is a supervisor for a company installing gas installation - explain what you need to achieve and see if he can help you. I want you to consider how you are going to achieve your on site assessments. There isn't a rush for this at the moment as the on site assessments can and are likely to be done in the second year but we need to start to thinking about how we are going to arrange this.

Your timekeeping is fine at present and this needs to be kept at the same level.

If you have any problems that may stop or slow your progress you should let me know as soon as possible.

Issues Raised: I want you to take the opportunity to do general Health and Safety revision over the half term period in readiness for your exam on the 1st October 2011.

Review Term: Autumn

Review:

Tadd is currently making good progress thoughout all aspects of his course. He has passed all existing exams and is due to start his first practical assessment on the 17th January 2012.

Tadd is being given the opportunity to broaden his experiences on site. This is including working on the maintenance of plumbing and gas systems whilst supervised.

Issues Raised: Tadd currently doesn't have any outstanding issues.
