Review:

You are making good progress at present. You said you are enjoying the course and do not have any problems.

We are looking to enter you for your Health and Safety exam on the 1st October 2011 - this will not be first thing in the morning, it will be late morning or afternoon, depending when I can arrange it. I will confirm once I have firm arrangement.

Your work is busy and you are doing mainly plumbing maintenance at the moment but I want you to consider how you are going to achieve your on site assessments. There isn't a rush for this at the moment as the on site assessments can and are likely to be done in the second year but we need to start to thinking about how we are going to arrange this.

Your timekeeping is fine at present and this needs to be kept at the same level.

If you have any problems that may stop or slow your progress you should let me know as soon as possible.

Issues Raised: I want you to take the opportunity to do some revision over the half term period in readiness for your Health and Safety exam on the 1st October 2011.

Review Term: Autumn/Spring/Summer

Review:

Robert has recently had a child with his wife and this has affected his attendance recently. However, Robert is confident this should not be a problem going forward as he is settling into a routine.

His progress so far throughout the course has been very good, he has one outstanding exam which is due to be sat on the 17th January 2012. We are both confident this will be passed.

He will be embarking on his first practical assessment on the 17th January 2012.

Issues Raised: Robert has one cause for concern - his work placement is not, at present, giving Robert a broad scope of work, it mainly concentrates on maintenance. Robert suggested that he would speak with his supervisor over the next two weeks regarding broadening the scope of his experience. We are confident this problem can be resolved but it must be monitored fortnightly.
